RUSH UNIVERSITY
COLLEGE OF NURSING
RUSH MEDICAL COLLEGE
COLLEGE OF HEALTH SCIENCES
THE GRADUATE COLLEGE

The College of Nursing at Rush University is seeking applicants for Assistant or Associate rank Faculty position (12-month, full time) beginning summer/fall 2021. Work at a top ranked College with the nation's best nurse scholars, clinicians, and students. The #1 Psychiatric & Mental Health Nursing program is seeking faculty to join a supportive and dynamic department. A PhD or DNP in nursing and clinical experience in Psychiatric/Mental Health Nursing is required by the start date of the position. PMHNP certification is required. Experience working with students and teaching is highly desirable. The position supports teaching in both the Generalist Entry Masters and Doctor of Nursing Practice programs. The College has unique tracks to pursue both research and/or clinical practice in addition to teaching with time allocated to these pursuits.

Rush University is deeply committed to developing a community that is inclusive, respectful and considers diversity to be a key part of our excellence. The College seeks applicants whose experience, teaching, research and/or community service has prepared them to contribute to this mission. We welcome, in particular, applicants from groups who have been historically underrepresented in nursing, including racial and ethnic minorities, LBGTQ+, veterans, people with disabilities, and men.

Salary and faculty rank are commensurate with education and experience. Position will remain open until filled. To apply contact:
